Thinking across borders - (Re) discover ICT cooperation potential with East Europe & Central Asia and Western Balkan countries

1122, 28/09/2010 (9:00-10:30)

Recent developments have established new ICT R&D co-operation opportunities with Eastern Europe & Central Asia and Western Balkan countries.

This aim is to enhance co-operation between researchers from the EU and Eastern European & Central Asian (EECA) and Western Balkan (WB) countries. The floor will be given to researchers to present and promote their ideas, and bilateral meetings between researchers from EU and EECA/WB countries will be held to discuss future joint research activities. The session will also host the award ceremony of the Western Balkan countries' ICT idea competition. Six winners will be rewarded for their excellent ICT research ideas and given the opportunity to present their proposals. The session is jointly organised by seven EU-funded actions: ISTOK-SOYUZ, SCUBE-ICT, EXTEND, WINS-ICT, ICT-WEB-PROMS, IncoNet CA/SC and IncoNet-EECA.

Dear Sir/Madam,

Thinking across borders is a major aspect of the European Union's strategy for international Science and Technology cooperation. Widening the geographical scope of the European Research Area (ERA) to include EU's southern and eastern neighbours will make an important contribution to EU's policy goals towards these countries, in particular building sustainable economic prosperity.

To support the integration of Eastern Europe and Central Asia (EECA) and Western Balkan (WB) countries into the ERA, a number of support actions funded by the European Commission under the 7th Framework Programme are joining efforts and organise this networking session during the ICT 2010 event (Europe's most visible forum for ICT Research and Innovation organised every 2 years by the DG Information Society and Media of the European Commission in collaboration with the EU member state that has the EU presidency - http://ec.europa.eu/information_society/events/ict/2010/index_en.htm).

Date / time :	Tuesday, 28 September 2010, 9:00-10:30
Location :	Room 1122
More information :	http://ec.europa.eu/information_society/events/cf/ict2010/item-display.cfm?id=2908

The session objectives are twofold: a) to promote the RD developments made by organisations from the EECA and WB region and b) highlight the collaboration opportunities among ICT actors from EU, EECA and WB countries. These objectives will be achieved by:

- giving floor to research organisations from EECA/WB countries to present and promote their competencies and ideas;

Отзывы участников:

- Vladimir Basko: Being CEO of the Infopark IT Association it was important for me to understand if all the activities within FP7/ICT are realistic for our members, if they can really find their place in the programme/projects etc if it would be worth for them even to try themselves, because I know it's not easy procedure to be involved in and to become a partner, especially for private companies, SMEs, but not only . To estimate the competence level of the FP7 participants from different sectors, what is the role and place for private companies (SMEs and big ones) etc

Acad. Prof Labunov: ..According to these conferences the progress of EU in ICT development is remarkable. One peculiar thing is that year by year EU has paid an increasing attention to the collaboration with the CIS countries. The ICT2010 “Digitally Driven” event may be considered as an exclusive one from this point of view, because the outstanding organizational procedures were engaged in order to support the participants in preparing their proposals to the new FP7 calls and to find partners for the future projects. ...

. .. I visited a number of plenary sections, networking meetings and exhibitions stands. In a course of these visits I have learned more on main EU ICT trends including Nanoelectronics, have established contacts with the colleagues of different countries, obtained information which will help me more carefully prepare the new proposals to FP7. The main result is that 8 preliminary contacts with the potential EU partners have been established and will be continued in order to enter into FP7.
